

To extend our learning on healthy eating, we had a visit from the dentist to enhance children's learning about which foods are good and bad for their teeth. The practitioner also discussed healthy brushing habits for children, and the importance of overall dental hygiene. The collage below was created by children after the visit to cement the learning the dentists provided.

